

AlpineReg, LLC
Intellectual Property Rights

All copyright and other intellectual property rights subsisting in the Site and its contents, including without limitation all text, images, graphics, systems, concepts and code contained in the Site, and in its look and feel (collectively, the “Contents”) are owned by AlpineReg, or by third-party providers. Except where otherwise specified, you may view, copy and print the Contents only for own use, provided that all copies and print-outs of the Contents bear the copyright and other proprietary notices and disclaimers displayed on them on the Site. AlpineReg reserves the right, but has no obligation, to change the Contents at any time.

Other than as specified above, neither the Site nor any of its Contents may be modified or copied in whole or part in any form, including by framing, incorporation into other websites or other publication, or be used to create any derivative work. No links to the Site may be included in any other website without the Company’s prior written permission. None of AlpineReg’s trade marks may be used without the Company’s prior written permission. The Company reserves all its rights in such trademarks.

Other than as specified above, nothing on the Site should be construed as granting any right or license. AlpineReg does not guarantee that you have any right to use content available on the Site that is owned by any third party, and that third party’s permission will not be required before you use such content. None of the Content’s may be changed, nor may any copyright or author attribution notice appearing on any of the Contents be altered or removed, without AlpineReg’s permission.
